“As mad as a cut snake”

Describes someone who is wild or out of control

“Barry was as mad as a cut snake when his endpoints displayed a blue screen of death, if only he’d used IGEL”

“Pulling a swifty”

The act of deceiving or misleading someone.

“I asked IT to give me a new PC, but they pulled a swifty and now I’m on a Chromebook”

“Having a sticky beak”

Having a close, sometimes unwanted look at something.

“I was just having a sticky beak at Jonno’s IGEL UMS 12 install, the way he is securely managing apps is truly breathtaking”

“Chucking a sickie”

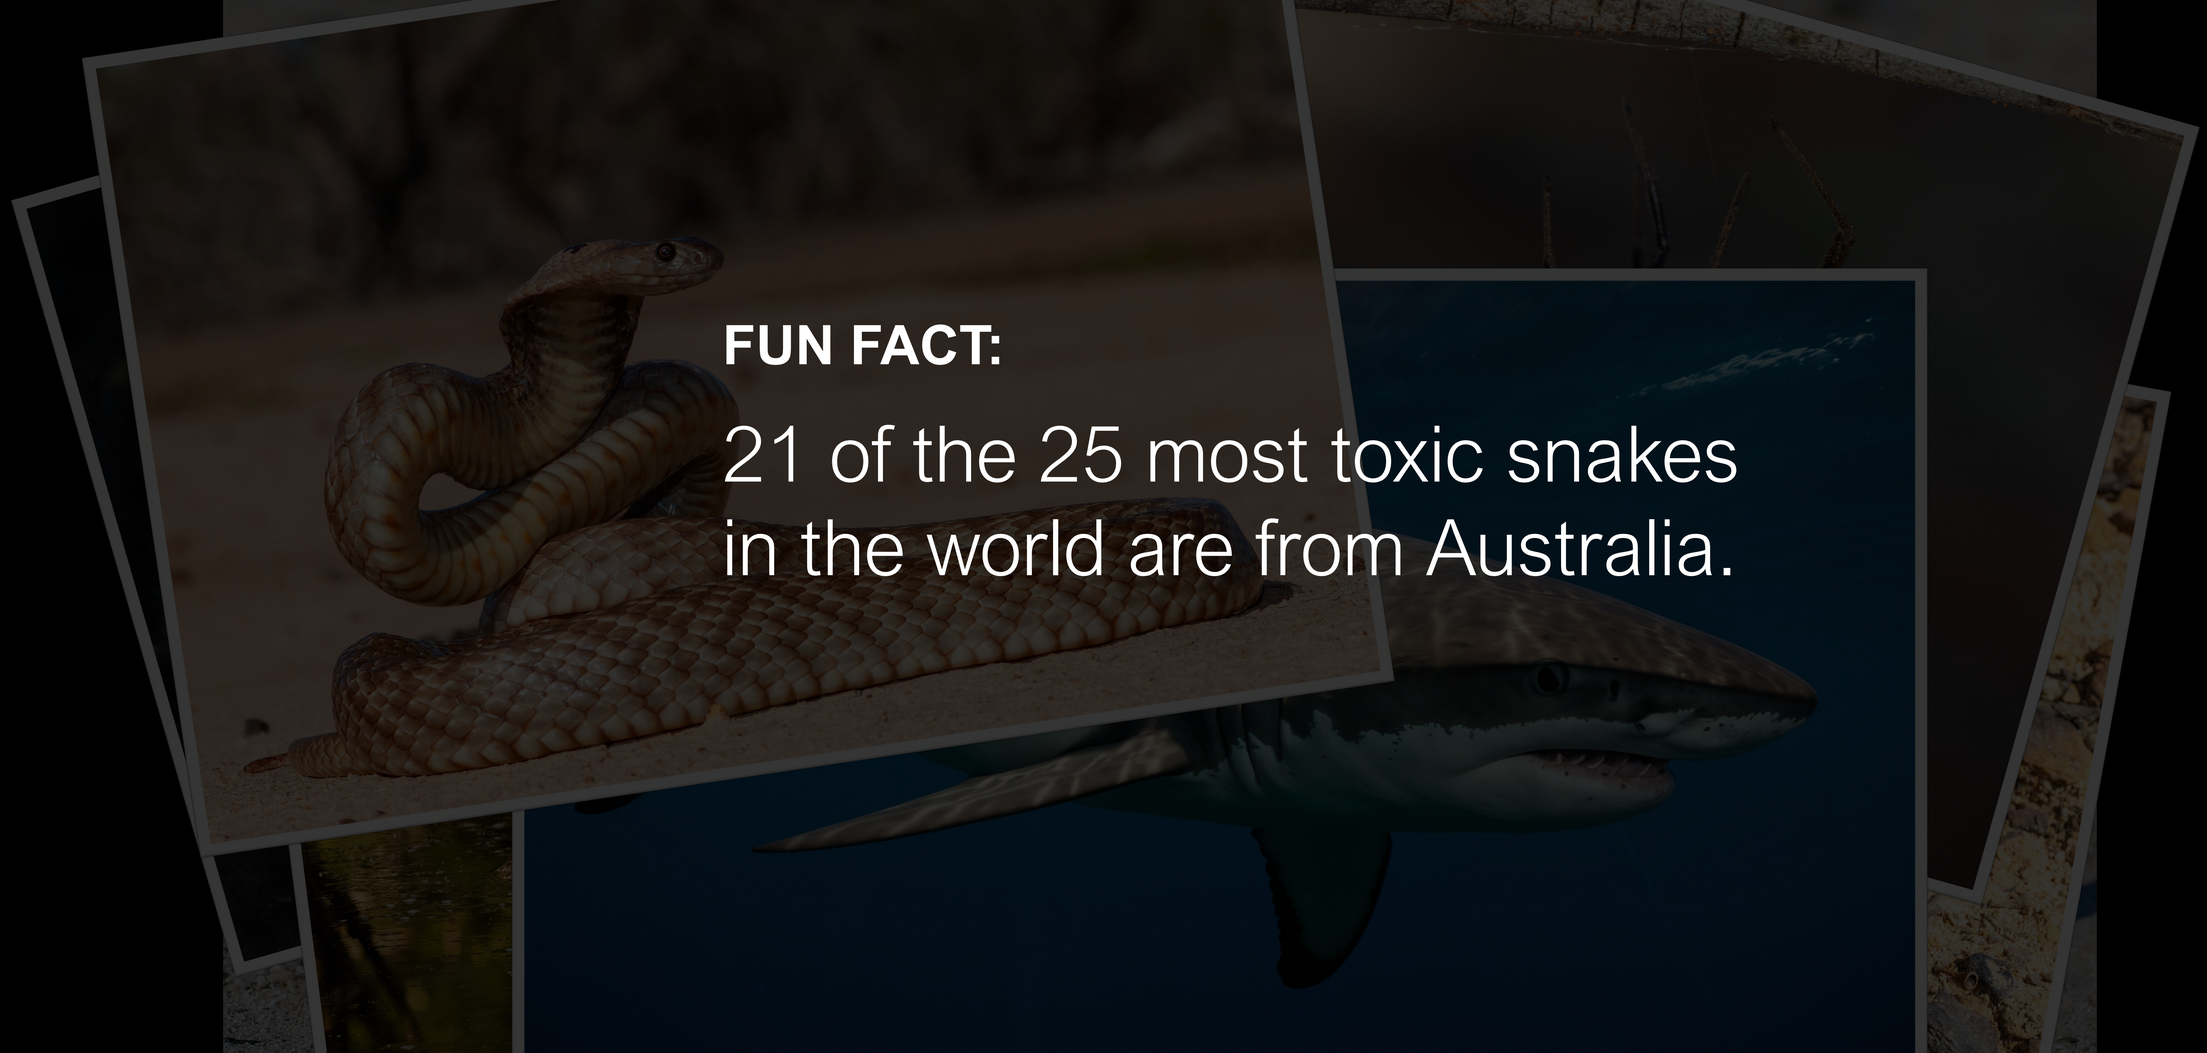

In Australia, taking a day off work when you’re not unwell is referred to as “chucking a sickie”.

“Justine had such a great time at IGEL Disrupt Munich, that she chucked a sickie on Wednesday and took a nap”
